

Craig Chartier

"The Ja-Mar Muttock-Pauwating Site in Middleborough"

Twenty radiocarbon dates chronicled the main periods of occupation of the site while producing evidence for the use of small triangle points in the Late Woodland Period and maize and bean horticulture.

Lot 4 Longhouse

Plymouth Archaeological Rediscovery Project's mission is to educate the public about the past and to foster an appreciation of how archaeology can add to the understanding of our communal history.